3.The History of Constitution of India.

VI. Government of India Act (1935)- This introduced 'provincial autonomy': responsible government at the provinces with elected Indians in charge of the administration, and responsible to the elected legislatures. A federal government was proposed, though it did not come into effect. At the centre, 'diarchy' was introduced.

VII. Indian Independence Act (1947)- The British gave up control of the Government of India into two dominions - India and Pakistan. For the time being till the constitution was made, both of them would be governed in accordance with the Government of India act 1935.

The Partition of British India was based on the prevailing religions, broadly as shown in this map of 1933.

1.What is Constitution Anyway?

Almost everything we do is governed by some set of rules. There are rules for games (like-soccer), for social clubs and for adults in the workplace. There are also rules imposed by morality and custom that play an important role in telling us what we should and should not do.

For example- In the game of soccer, a referee has "full authority to enforce the Rules or Law of the Game on the Players", when a player do something against the Rules referee takes action like send-off a player, as shown in images below.

3.The History of Constitution of India.

3) East India Company (1765AD-1858AD)- During this period, the company established a unified control over the whole of India from a single center in Calcutta. Different Acts and Laws were forced by company during this period just so company could remain in power and authority. But the company came under increasing control by parliament of Britain and its rule ended with the Revolt of 1857.
